

Think about the signs of summer—fireflies twinkling, fireworks flashing, busy days at the pool, and breezy nights. Describe the feeling of long sunny days slowly fading into summer nights.

A black and white illustration of a stylized plant with long, thin, drooping leaves and a central stem, positioned in the top right corner of the page. The plant has a central vertical stem with several long, thin, drooping leaves extending from it. The leaves are drawn with simple black outlines. The plant is located in the top right corner of the page, partially overlapping the horizontal lines.