

Open-Ended Short Story

Use rich, descriptive words and your imagination to continue the story:

The jungle is thick with vines and bird call as you scramble over a fallen branch. In the distance you hear a rumble that sounds like the sea. Cautiously rising to peer over a boulder, you realize you are the first to discover...

